He epitomized the American dream that with good ideas, hard work and ambition, anything's possible. He was an entirely self-made man who changed the world by creating a string of "insanely great" products that elevated how people learn, communicate and consume entertainment. The obstacles and setbacks he faced might have stopped any other man.

Such was Jacob's favoritism for Joseph that it caused great resentment among his brothers and nearly cost Joseph his life. When Isaac was old and his eyesight faded, he thought he was near to his death and made arrangements with Esau to pass on to him the blessings due to the firstborn son (Genesis 27:1-4).
